Doreen 'Go-go' Kirwan founded The Beaufield Mews in 1948 after her husband, Valentine, asked her to furnish Beaufield House. The Coachhouse & stables attached to the house became her storage rooms, filled to the brim with large mahogany tables, vintage crockery, oriental vases and anything else that took her fancy.

With more items that she could possibly house, she opened up the Coachhouse to prospective ladies looking for beautiful items to adorn their homes whilst serving afternoon tea in the surplus vintage crockery. Go-go's two daughters would accompany her and sell scones & tea for some pocket money ... and the foundations of Beaufield Mews restaurant were laid.

Our Go-Go Vintage Afternoon tea is in her honour, offering a lovely menu in vintage style with a little modern twist...
